

HelloFresh Accelerates Hiring to Expand IT and Tech Team

Plans to Hire 100+ New HelloTech Team Members to Drive Innovation

NEW YORK, N.Y. – September 15, 2017 – HelloFresh, the global leader in meal kit delivery, today announced plans to bring on more than 100 new IT and tech team members to its HelloFresh headquarters in NYC and Berlin over the coming months.

The team who shapes the future of food

HelloTech is the diverse, multi-disciplinary tech team behind the company's full array of digital products. Its mission is to provide customers with a seamless, enjoyable all-around experience and to power the company's next-generation logistics operations. Open HelloTech team roles range from Front-end, Back-end, and Full-stack Engineers, to UX/UI Analysts, Engineers, and Designers, Quality Assurance Engineers, and Product Developers. Candidates will have the chance to join the fast-growing international market leader in the meal kit category, and be a part of the journey to continue disrupting the traditional food market. They will also have an opportunity to work across various HelloFresh offices around the globe.

"At HelloFresh, we see our IT department as the backbone of our business. It drives innovation, product excellence, master personalization, and offers variety. We have the best talent on board already, and are now looking to grow the team significantly, across our two biggest offices, NYC and Berlin." said Nuno Simaria, HelloFresh's Global Chief Technology Officer. "For me, being part of a team that impacts the way perishable food is transported, changes the way people cook and eat, and codes the food market's IT structure of the future, is one of the very great achievements in a developer's career. Doing so at the global market leader in this market offers a nearly infinite set of opportunities."
